Scenic Route Which Will Reduce the Distance to Be Built by Otero County. WILL REDUCE GRADE AT LEAST 1600 FEET

ALAMOGORDO, N. M., June 21.—County road commissioner Geo. M. Moffett is spending a week's vacation at home here, after his work of supervising the construction of a new piece of road in the eastern portion of Otero county. Between Weed and Avis. He will begin on a new Cloudcroft road soon. This piece comprised a three mile stretch and not only lessens the distance between the two places, but lowers the grade 1600 feet and decreases the average grade about one-half. The road was built along modern lines and is a valuable addition to the already constructed good roads of the county.

In a short time Mr. Moffett will take up the construction of a new road from Cloudcroft to Weed. This new route will lessen the distance between the places between four and five miles and will reduce the grade 1600 feet and the maximum grade from 18 to 8 feet.

These roads are a part of the county which will give a splendid highway from this city east to the county line and traverse a fine stretch of mountain scenery. Mr. Moffett also states that work will probably be taken up this fall on the construction of the new road running from Mountain Park to the summit of Cloudcroft. This road will probably go up the mountain on a gradual grade and south of the canyon up which the present road runs.

El Pasoans Find Roads Good.

A party of El Pasoans on a cross country trip to the Pacific coast spent the night in this city. The party included L. K. Turner, wife and children; L. E. Chamberlain and wife, Billie Solie and M. E. Raymond. They are traveling in two cars, a Tourist 40 and a Studebaker 28. They are carrying with them a full quota of baggage, camp outfit, sporting goods, fishing tackle and boxing gloves. The entire load, including the passengers, approximates 2500 pounds on the two cars. They made the run from El Paso here in the usual time, and report the road in very good condition, equal to the average automobile roads in any part of the west. They were questioned particularly as to the condition of the road as they found it, on account of the publication of a recent interview of an autoist, in which he had stated that the road was in a very bad condition. Messrs. Turner and Chamberlain state that the road is in an ideal condition except about 10 miles commencing about 12 miles south of this city, and that they found this under on account of the recent rains, but that it would clear up in 24 hours. They experienced, they say, very little difficulty in pulling the cars, and that they were very heavily loaded.

They will spend several days in the mountains north of this city, following the Rio Grande, and thence to Roswell. From there they will go leisurely to the coast, by way of Albuquerque, turning this fall to the borderland route. They expect to be about three months on the trip.

Buildings Improved.

Geo. P. Schurz and son, L. K. Schurz, have commenced work in remodeling and overhauling the building recently purchased by them on 10th street, and will make of it a modern home. It will be occupied when finished by R. E. Schurz as his home.

It was said at the white house today that the president is determined to maintain essential features of the measure, particularly those which concern concentration of essential powers in New York city, and control of the money market.

Fight Over Bonds. The fight over the retirement of $100,000,000 1 percent bonds promises to be a bitter one. At a two hour conference in the white house, the congressmen were asked their views on the administration currency bill as it is to be introduced by representative Glass, chairman of the committee. Some of them have a friendly feeling toward the measure, but those who expressed opinions were favorably inclined toward it.

The president explained that naturally some of the details in the bill had brought considerable discussion, but that so far as he had observed, there was a friendly feeling toward the fundamentals of the administration measure. Mr. Wilson said that moreover, the members of the committee all seemed to desire action at the present session, but that they had asked him to hurry consideration of the bill.

REBEL GENERAL FAILS TO APPEAR FOR TRIAL SATURDAY MORNING.

SENDS ATTORNEY WITH A WAIVER

SALAZAR was suffering from "cold feet" Saturday morning in addition to his summer complaint ailment which has confined him to his quarters in Juarez. Gen. Salazar failed to appear before United States commissioner G. R. Oliver at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and his bond of $1000 was declared forfeited.

In his place Salazar sent E. B. Miffler, his attorney, to the commissioner with a written waiver, in which he waived preliminary hearing and asked to be permitted to have the same amount of bond fixed for his appearance before the United States court in Santa Fe, N. M. But the bond which he made Monday when he was arrested, was for his personal appearance in court, and the written waiver was not accepted.

Bond Ordered to Pay. The bond was declared forfeited and the El Paso Bank and Trust company was ordered to appear in court and make good the amount of the bond.

In addition to his written waiver, Salazar stated that he was confined to bed in his temporary residence in Juarez and was physically unable to come to this side. The document in which he set forth his desire, covered two pages of typewritten matter starting with: "Comes now Jose Ynez Salazar, and ending with the seal of the United States court in Santa Fe, a consul's stamp and the signatures of Joseph Duran and another Mexican, of the signature of Salazar, also appeared on the document in a big, bold hand and it was a bound round with a red piece of official tape."

TRAIN DYNAMITED AT MAYTORENA, SON.

More Than 100 Federal Soldiers Killed When Explosion Occurs in Front of Railway Station.

Cancun, Son., Mex., June 21.—Although the report of a federal armored train being dynamited at Orizaba was denied, it is now certain that there was a federal train blown up at Maytorena, Son., Mexico.

Reports from Maytorena are to the effect that a train, armored, containing about 250 or 275 federal soldiers, was destroyed. The train was en route to the north. The progress of the train was greatly impeded by the numerous obstructions of the track, which consisted of piles of ties, earth embankments and trees. Every few minutes the train had to be stopped to clear the obstructions.

At every place where there was an obstruction a thorough examination was made for the purpose of ascertaining whether it was mined or not, and after a close examination, the impediment was removed. At about noon the train, which was moving at a rapid pace, was stopped by a tremendous explosion which occurred and there was an immense pillar of fire, smoke, splinters of wood and iron thrown skyward, together with bodies of federal soldiers. The effect of the explosion was great and the earth was shaken for a radius of many miles. There was a shapely mass of wreckage of several cars and the locomotive. Bodies were found the bodies of over 100 men. After a short time the federal soldiers retreated to Empalme on foot. It is understood that there were a number of cannon and machine guns mounted on the train and that some of which were damaged to such an extent that they were left behind.

Cruz de Piedra Fight. On June 21, federal troops were defeated by state troops at Cruz de Piedra. The federal numbers 300, approximately, and were aboard an armored train, southbound, for the purpose of repairing the railroad, believing that the state troops had left that portion of the state. However, as the train moved into sight at the little station, the state soldiers opened fire upon the train. The federal troops repelled with machine gun fire, but the train, leaving 19 dead, was unsatisfactory, as no damage was done. A detachment of cavalry was disembarked from the train and sent back towards the train, leaving 19 dead behind them, besides 14 saddled horses, 36 Mauser rifles and a quantity of ammunition. The state troops, however, got aboard the train, they headed back to Empalme.

The state soldiers at Cruz de Piedra numbered 100 and were commanded by Maj. Francisco Mendez, while he was assisted by a command of Yaquis numbering about 100 and in charge of Gen. Morf. The state loss is given at one killed and a number wounded, among the latter being Capt. Benito Matas, who has been taken to Torin for medical attention.
